

Transition Rule for Writing Requirement Adopted on January 27, 2007

Students who have completed the faculty supervised writing project prior to the beginning of classes in Fall 2007 will be considered to have satisfied the upper level writing requirement under the new policy. Students who have not completed the faculty supervised writing project by that date can satisfy the upper level writing requirement by completing one writing project that meets the criteria of the new policy.